AN EXCITING NEW SUBSCRIPTION OFFER

EXCLUSIVELY FOR READERS OF MAD MAGAZINE!

"An extraordinary opportunity to own the official MAD Pin Collection!"

A Brief History of the MAD Pin Collection

In late 1990, MAD publisher William Mildred Barnsworth Higgenbottom Pinous Gaines IX decreed that there should be an official MAD Pin Collection and ordered that famous artisans from around the world be contacted to see who would work the cheapest to create these objects of art!

Unique in all of jewelry-making history, we broke the mold before we cast these pins!

Each official MAD Pin is precision crafted by machines that are turned On and Off by hand!

Each Pin is cast in SpaceAge Alloys—the same Alloys used to make NASA space shuttle souvenir pins sold by guys hanging around Cape Canaveral!

The Official MAD Pin Collection smells like jewelry that costs thousands of dollars and can be mistaken for real gold at distances over 500 meters (though at shorter distances they may be mistaken for a lot of other things!)

These Pins will not be sold in any store—we know, we tried getting any store we could find to sell them and nobody would touch them!

Due to the special nature of this offer, the number of Official MAD Pins commissioned shall never exceed the demand! (In the event of a tie, all production will cease! That's our commitment to quality!)

These are the very same Pins that will be offered by us again and again and again in future issues of MAD Magazine!

An Important Reminder! Each Official MAD Pin is so valuable it will be personally delivered to your home by an official United States Government Employee, dressed like a mailman!

This offer is neither endorsed nor in any way connected to the Franklin Mint, Benjamin Franklin, Joe Franklin or Franklin Delano Roosevelt!

MISTAKEN READERS CORRECTED

You guys really messed up! In MAD #304's "Deadwood Scissorhands," when the Grandmother was talking to her Grandchild, she said that the Scarecrow had no heart. It was the Tinman that had no heart, and the scarecrow had no brain! Next time, watch the movie!

Jon Schrumpf
Moundsville, WV

Excuse me, but I found something wrong on the cover of issue #304. Madonna's mole is under the wrong nostril! I'm surprised! Only a corndog would make such a corndog-inferior mistake!

Mandi Dailey
Melbourne, FL

In MAD #304 you made a mistake that even my Mother would notice! In the satire of Edward Scissorhands you have Freddy Krueger pictured with razors on both hands. Everybody knows that his razors are on the right hand only!

Brad Carter
Jason Phillips
East Alton, IL

MAD goofs again! In "Snappy Answers to Stupid Questions at a Wrestling Match" one of the wrestlers pictured at the bottom of the page has three hands! Plus, out of the five hands, four are right hands!

Jeremy Welch
Asheville, NC

Us wrong? US wrong?? Hardly! We hope the following "gang answer" addresses all of your infantile criticisms. First, Mr. Schrumpf (if that is your real name), you wrongly assumed the Grandmother was speaking about The Wizard of Oz. The fairy tale in which the scarecrow has no heart she was referring to was in fact the classic Bavarian legend of yore, "Hans and the Friendly Butcher." So get out of here and take your flying monkeys with you!

Secondly, to Mandi of Melbourne: You wrongly assume that that is a mole under Madonna's nostril. 'Nuff said!

Brad and Jason, YOU wrongly assume that we drew Freddy Krueger. That man is, in fact, Moische, the butcher from the classic Bavarian legend of yore, "Hans and the Friendly Butcher." Remember now? The way he uses those hands to slice kilobase?

And lastly, Jeremy (and that HAS to be your real name): You wrongly assume there are only two wrestlers because you can only see two heads. It is, in fact, a Battle Royale, and there are 13 wrestlers in the ring! This means there are actually 22 missing hands! There would have been 21, but there's an odd number because one of the participants was Argentinian legend Pasquez, the Man of a Thousand Arms (well actually three)!—Ed.

WHAT ABOUT SERGIO?

On the right is a part of the ad for the movie What About Bob?. On the left is a part of one of many "The Shadow Knows" articles MAD has published over the years, drawn by Sergio Aragones. Did we miss where the ad credited Sergio for inspiration? One thing we do know is that the film was marginally successful and Sergio draws Marginals successfully!

FOAM SWEET FOAM

The December, 1990 issue of MAD (#299) has been brought to our attention. Please be informed that incorrect reference was made to our trademark STYROFOAM on page 12. ("MAD Reviews the 21st Century Ahead of Time").

STYROFOAM brand foam products include insulation used in the construction industry, nautical billets and billets sold into the floral and craft industries for further manufacture. STYROFOAM brand plastic foam is not used to make cups, plates, food containers, trays or the like.

Instead of using STYROFOAM when making reference to consumer or packaging products, please use "foam" or "plastic foam"; for example, "foam cup," "plastic foam tray" and "foam packaging material."

M.—We were so moved by your letter we xeroxed it and scotch taped it to our MAD® bulletin board with a hand-aid! Everyone read it during our traditional MAD® afternoon jello break [which, by the way, we keep fresh by storing in baggies]. Before we knew it, everyone in our office began sobbing and reaching for kleenex and chap stick [some even needed vaseline and pampers!]. There's no question about it—Dow helps us at MAD® bring good things to life!—Ed.
P.S.—What the hell are nautical billets??

THE MICE DIET REPORT

I went out to the shed yesterday to hunt up my collection of old MAD magazines and I made a phenomenal discovery! Everything in the shed had been chewed on by mice, but not one MAD had even a tiny bite taken out of it! To me this proves that mice are a lot smarter than we think. There are some things that even they won't eat!

J.R. Newby
Van Buren, IN

Your comments piqued our curiosity, so we did a little digging and planted some lovely marigolds! What this has to do with your letter, we don't know! Seriously though, we don't know how you were storing your MADs. We suspect the reason the mice didn't eat them was because you were storing them in either styrofoam cups, styrofoam plates or nautical billets!—Ed.

PANTSERING A QUESTION

I was just wondering, on the cover of MAD #304... Are those Bugle Boy Jeans Alfred is wearing?

Aron Natale
N. Huntingdon, PA

No, those aren't Bugle Boy jeans, although Alfred has been known to pack a slide trombone in his pocket!—Ed.

THE BOOK OF MAD

I was once told that the best way to get over a traumatic experience is by sharing it with others, so here goes: I have just finished writing a new book called COMPLETELY MAD. It presents the entire history of MAD, such as the origin of Alfred E. Neuman, lots of behind-the-scenes stories and examples of classic MAD art, including reproductions of every MAD cover, in color! It's published by Little, Brown and Co. and will be in bookstores this fall. Thank you for helping me get this off my chest.

Welcome to my Ice-capade
In this turtle soup charade!
Their first flick sucked, you may recall,
If you've seen one turtle you've seen 'em all!
So they hyped me big, which is quite a laugh
Since I'm only in it a minute and a half!
I sing rap (which I secretly hate)
'Cause it hides the fact that I can't sing straight!

Why do we have Vanilla Lice in our movie?

We wanted something in this film that we didn't have in our last one!

Rap Music?
No, enter-tainment!

That may be expecting too much of him! We'll be lucky if Vanilla Lice will still be famous by the end of our little movie!

I'm just a pizza delivery boy, but as you can see, I also studied the Martial Arts!

That's obvious!
And the fact that you didn't study acting is even more obvious!

How come there are 200 of us thugs and only four turtles, and they keep winning?!

I guess it's that stupid Martial Arts
Credo: Thugs must attack good guys one at a time!

This is Gapewell O'Wow at the Seedy Dock Disco to uncover some of the city's biggest slimeballs! I'm not talking about the Foothsy Clan, I'm talking about the creeps who run this place and charge $8 a drink, plus a $12 cover charge!

I got the groceries, Master!

How do turtles shop for groceries without raising commotion in public?

It's easy! We shop at a 7-Eleven! There's so many other ethnics that hang out there, we blend right in!

Two new beasts were devised—on business advice—New characters add up—to more merchandise!

The Ooze turned two junkyard varmints into death-dealing mutant freaks!

Get them off me!

Not these two! They're trying to Breast Feed! Now get them off me and fast!

To make four mirthless turtles—the stars of a flick Just teach them the old—Three Stooges schtick!

Stop those Nitwit Turtles! They're getting away with the green gook!

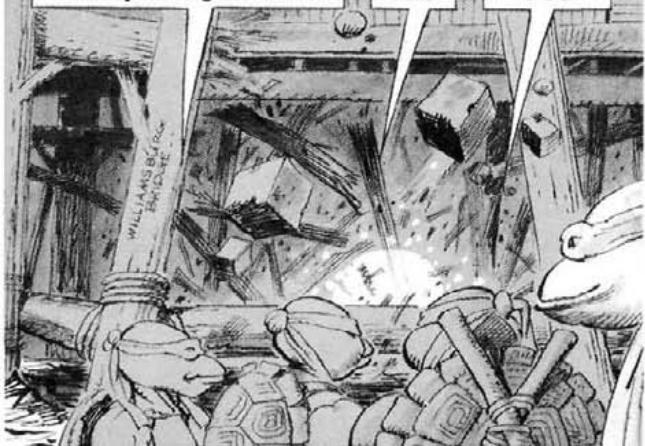

That's nothing! Considering that this movie is going to make 100 million greenbacks, those four mutants are getting away with murder!

Gee, what an original ending! In our first movie, Dreader fell off a ten-story building! But in this movie, we drop a ten-story building on Dreader!

Do you think it killed him?

Nah, it will probably just slow him down a bit!

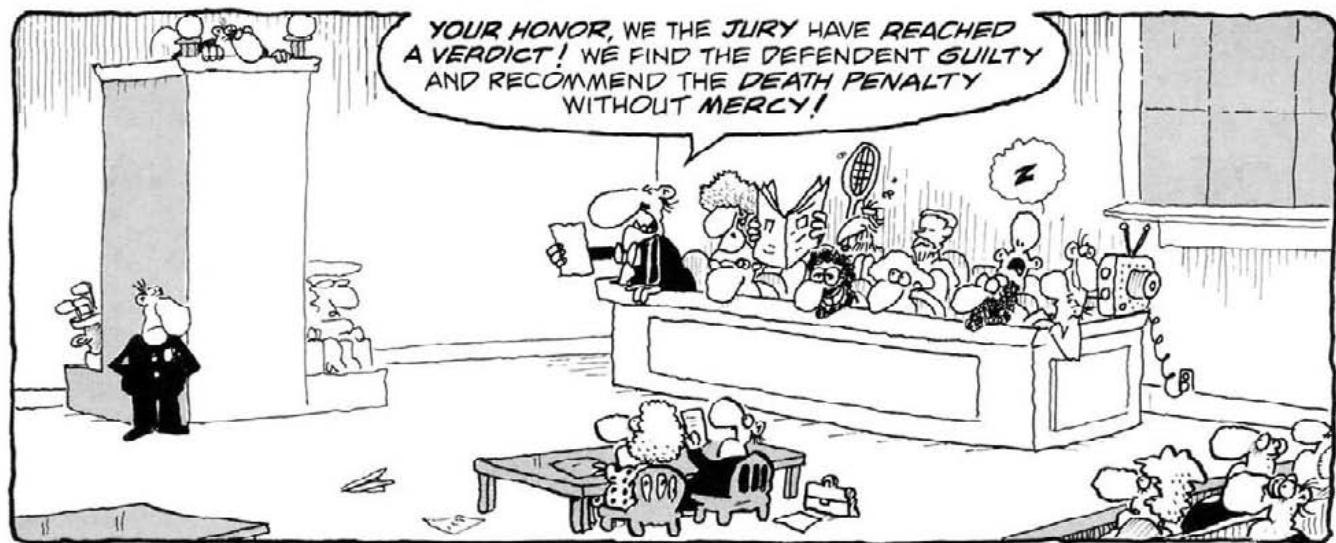

Which all goes to prove that to have a big hit Having zero for talent doesn't matter one bit! 'Cause in Hollywood, talent and creativity Get in the way of success! Hey, just look at me!

Thousands of years ago, the ancient Greeks and Romans worshipped a plethora of goddesses and gods which they believed to be all powerful and omnipotent. Of course, this was just mindless superstition. Modern civilization has taught us that only rock stars are all powerful and omnipotent! STAY OUT OF REAL ESTATE SPECULATION AND AVOID LOSING YOUR SHIRT—Teaches those who have plans to participate in foreclosed property auctions to spend their spare time less dangerously by limiting their land acquisitions to only when playing the board games "Risk" and "Monopoly."

Room 106, Huntz Hall

Mr. Huckster

SHUT UP AND BE POPULAR—Trains graduates of courses in "Mastering Clever Conversation" to be less obnoxious by letting others talk occasionally. Lectures emphasize such skills as pretending to listen, stifling clever retorts and nodding pleasantly without making needless comments.

Room 106, Tom T. Hall

Miss Mime

FORGET GOURMET COOKING AND CURE YOUR TERMINAL INDIGESTION—Designed for students who never had stomach problems until they took an international cooking course (such as "Spices of the Asian Sub-Continent"). This corrective course restores you to good health with instruction in boiling eggs, preparing Cream of Wheat, opening cottage cheese cartons and chewing Rolaidts.

Room 106, Fawn Hall

Ms. Bland

STIFLE YOUR URGE TO WRITE A BEST SELLING NOVEL—Why let minimal talent plus one semester of Creative Writing 101 lure you into the miserable life of a poor, struggling freelance writer? These lectures offer guidance in dashing your dreams, disposing of your typewriter and becoming engrossed in a career with a real future—such as pizza delivery work.

Room 106, Annie Hall

Mr. Vidal

REDUCE YOUR MEMORY TO THE HUMAN AVERAGE—Thousands of memory improvement course grads are walking the streets today, unable to forget the date of Woodrow Wilson's birth or the lyrics of "Three Little Fishies." This course helps such unfortunates regain normal forgetfulness through a combination of cheap wine and loud Chinese gongs.

Room 106, Prentice Hall

FORGETTING 1ST YEAR CONVERSATIONAL SPANISH

Why risk a nasty physical encounter by uttering to a husky Latino a fractured Spanish phrase that may unintentionally slander his character? This course emphasizes the value of memorizing a single handy English sentence: "Sorry, but I do not speak Spanish, Señor."

Room 106, Mess Hall

Mr. Wimpgringo

SAVE TIME BY NEGLECTING YOUR HOBIES

Enjoy extra hours of television, solitaire or simple daydreaming once this seminar convinces you that needless hobbies are robbing you of your leisure time. "Hands on" instruction helps you regain control of your life by learning to burn stamp albums and rip up partially completed needlework projects.

ABANDON CALLIGRAPHY AND MAKE YOUR INVITATIONS READABLE—Vital to those who have mastered illegible calligraphy, only to find that it prevents invited guests from knowing when to show up for parties. Lab sessions help you relearn simple block lettering with a pencil, in order to put your thoughts on paper so others can decipher them.

Room 106, Dimly Lit Hall

LEARNING TO LEAVE YOUR HOUSE THE WAY IT IS—Listen to horror stories from homeowners who enrolled in remodeling courses and whose projects wound up costing many times the original estimate, and often caused entire walls to collapse. Gruesome videotapes guide eager novices away from undertakings that could leave them bankrupt and homeless.

I SENT A LETTER THROUGH THE MAIL . . .

(With Post Apologies to Henry Wadsworth Longfellow)

*I sent a letter through the mail;
It wound up... well, that's quite a tale;
I dropped it in a box, you see,
On Saturday, 'round half past three;
Through Sunday in that box it lay
(and Monday was a holiday),
Till late on Tuesday, by some luck,
Arrived a Postal Service truck,
Which hauled the mail and dumped it in
A postal worker's sorting bin.*

*My letter now was on its way—
To Little Rock through San Jose,
Then on to Boise, Idaho,
By way of downtown Buffalo,
Proceeding then to Bangor, Maine,
And, somehow, Barcelona, Spain,
Until, at last, it came to earth
In Texas, somewhere near Fort Worth;
Small wonder that it's got me down—
I mailed it to a friend cross-town.*

THE INGENIOUS INDIAN INCURSION

MY BROW IS HEAVY WITH WORRY,
RUNNING BARE!

WHY IS THAT,
MY CHIEF?

MANY BRAVES HAVE FALLEN
FROM THE WHITE MAN'S MAGIC WEAPON, THE
"SIX-SHOOTER"!

I WILL PRAY TO OUR
TRIBE'S GOD OF MAGIC
TO HELP US BUILD A
WEAPON TO DEFEAT
THE WHITE MAN IN
THE WARS HE WAGES
AGAINST OUR PEOPLE!

COLONEL KOSTER! WE'RE GETTING
SLAUGHTERED! THE HAWPIES
HAVE COME UP WITH A SIX-SHOOTER OF THEIR OWN!

My name is Don Kink and Mad has asked me once again to be their guest interviewer of the issue! Why? Well, this time around they figure here's a subject I really know something about! I'm interviewing ...

Mad's Merchandiser of the Year

If you thought I was a hustler, wait till you meet this guy, Mr. Paul Barabbas! He'll make your hair stand on end! Er, well, you know what I mean!

ARTIST: ANGELO TORRES

WRITER: STAN HART

Mister Barabbas, can you tell us exactly what a merchandiser does?

I sign up some big celebrities, then I plaster their names and faces on any product that won't kill or maim anyone!

Ah! So you do have standards!

Wrong! I don't! But I'm afraid the government does, the snoops!

Hmm, what is your business philosophy?

"Never underestimate the public's capacity for self-delusion!" Works for me, kiddo!

But didn't Abraham Lincoln once say, "You can fool all of the people some of the time and some of the people all of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time"?

I'm not impressed! That's the same guy who also said to his wife, "We ought to get out to the theater more often!"

BARABBAS
MERCHANDISING CORP.

When a group like the "New Kids" is hot, you can really cash in! But you gotta work fast or they're gone by Thursday! I get a percentage of everything sold with their name or faces on it! It's better than printing your own money—you don't have to buy ink or paper!

What happens if the group gets some bad publicity? Like when Donny Wahlberg set fire to his hotel room rug?

More opportunity for the smart operator! Look...

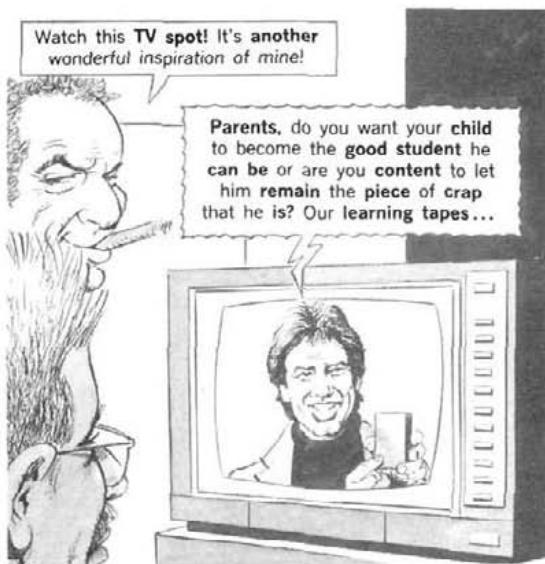

Is there anything you can do to promote your clients past their prime of popularity?

Sometimes, if I can create some public awareness! "Guns and Roses" are hot again thanks to the heavy metal riot in Detroit!

Riot?
Hmm,
I didn't hear about
that!

Maybe that's because it hasn't happened yet!
I'm holding it next month! It'll cost me $5,000—that's $5 per rioter! "Guns" will make Page One and I'll make a fortune!

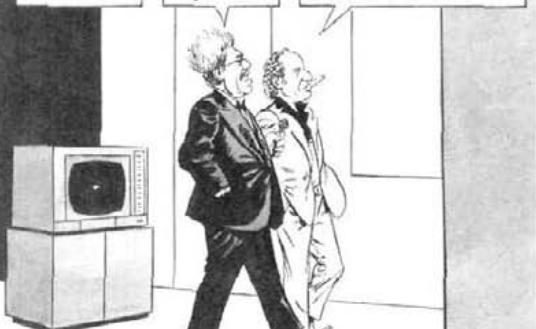

Watch this TV spot! It's another wonderful inspiration of mine!

John Ritter is one of my clients and this bit serves a real need!

You mean the future of America's youth?

It's not the youths' future we're serving! It's John's! He needs the money from these spots 'cause he hasn't made one successful movie since he left "Three's Company"!

The Franklin Mint has been charging a fortune for these goofy plates and cups with licensed characters on them! Some of my clients wanted in on the action! And knowing that many people love paintings on porcelain, I created my own item...

The "Rocky" Urinal! Collect the set!

All you kids out there! Now you can call me, Jose Canseco, at 1-900-J-O-S-E and get a daily batting tip!

The 900 phone number scheme has been a bonanza! We charge 'em $2.50 a minute!

Can you make a lot of money at that rate?

A killing! Jose talks so slowly that the kid has to stay on at least five minutes to get any kind of message at all!

And here are my Golden Girls! Old-timers remember June Allyson as an actress who couldn't control her tears! She cried in every movie! Today's kids think she's just some old bimbo who can't control her bladder!

I guess it's like they say, "What comes around, goes around!" And isn't this Jane Powell?

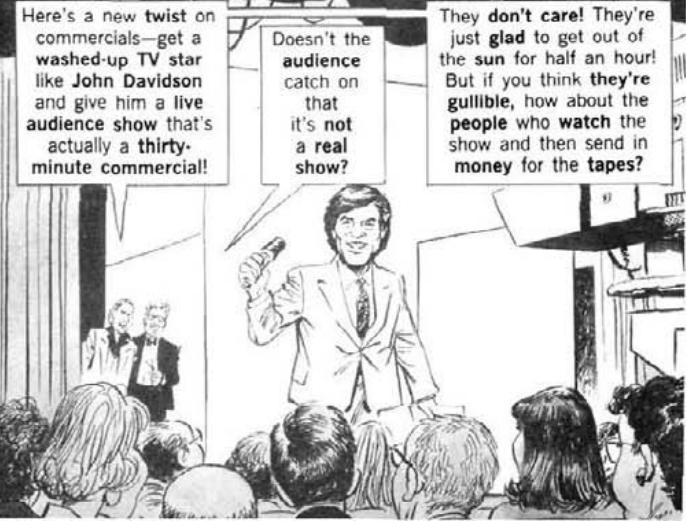

Yessir! Her commercial about how a denture cream prevents her false teeth from dropping in her soup is a winner! The old people sure identify with those dinosaurs!

Here's a new twist on commercials—get a washed-up TV star like John Davidson and give him a live audience show that's actually a thirty-minute commercial!

Doesn't the audience catch on that it's not a real show?

They don't care! They're just glad to get out of the sun for half an hour! But if you think they're gullible, how about the people who watch the show and then send in money for the tapes?

This is another "Barabbas Brainstorm"! Create products that use a celebrity's name! Like Elizabeth Taylor perfume!

And what makes that idea so special?

Since nobody knows what Elizabeth Taylor smells like, every customer thinks she smells like Elizabeth Taylor when she uses this stuff! Is America the land of opportunity or what?

Don't you ever run out of celebrities?

Yes! But when that happens, we just create our own! Like good ol' Richard Simmons here! Even though he's famous, there's not one person in the entire Western World who can tell you what he's famous for! I call it the "Zsa Zsa Gabor Syndrome"!

I must admit, sometimes you can be too successful with a promotion! Like these sneaker commercials with Michael Jordan! They were so effective, kids would kill to get the shoes!

That's terrific! What was the problem?

A lot of dead teen-agers! Like I said, some kids would kill to get the shoes!

We have a saying in our biz, "The New Kids are Nice, the Simpsons are Sweet, but a War is Wonderful!"

Wasn't Desert Storm in the public domain? That means anyone could do it!

Sure, but it took a guy like me to overdo it!

I hit all age brackets, from Desert Storm toys for kids to Desert Storm condoms for adults to Desert Storm suppositories for old folks! It was going great, but who knew that the damn war would be over in four lousy days? My people got stuck with a ton of Desert Storm merchandise! That fat guy, Schwarzkopf, owes me!

But making all that stuff was risky, wasn't it? Suppose the war had turned out differently?

No sweat! I was prepared for that, too! I signed up Saddam Hussein!

You signed him? But he was our enemy! He was our friend until last August!

Thank you, Paul Barabas! I think I speak for all MAD readers when I say you've certainly opened our eyes to what character merchandising is all about!

The average five-year-old thinks he's made a brilliant discovery when he smugly announces that any story beginning "Once upon a time..." is a fairy tale that didn't happen. Well, the average five-year-old is wrong! Many things dismissed as fantasy were very real in years gone by. Let MAD give you the straight poop on the way it was...

Mad's Soap Opera Update

An Informative Guide to What's Happening on Your Favorite Daytime Dramas

MAUL MY CHILDREN

Victor told Frank he was secretly married to every woman in Detroit. Shane and Johnny's plan against Cal backfired when Jennifer discovered them auditioning yodelers. Dane's nightmares about robot hens continued.

THE YOUNG AND THE RUSTLESS

When no one was watching, Beth let the air out of Tim's steady date. Kitty's plans to mass market Frederico's edible lawn furniture hit an unexpected snag when Uncle Chip decided to invest his money in Cassandra's new line of novelty neck braces. Kathleen told Margo he wondered why he had a girl's name.

DAYS OF OUR LIES

In an attempt to learn more about Henderson's past, Becky hypnotized his parrot's therapist. Phyllis charged Reed with refusing to reveal the identity of the man Rusty thought was responsible for Betty's Aunt going to Wally's bungalow with the Vancouver Canucks. Kent demanded that everyone stop putting butter in his hat.

ANOTHER WHIRL

Randy mistook Butch's aunt for an old sofa and sent her out to be reupholstered. At confession, Cliff revealed that he was the man responsible for those Infiniti car commercials. Julie invited a horse on a ski weekend.

LUSTING

Mike was miraculously spared when his earmuffs exploded at the Yeast Festival. Bill was named Oral Surgeon of the Year, even though he works at a Stuckey's. On the day before elections, Congressman Toomey was seen strapping hams to local school children.

MISGUIDING LIGHT

Despondent over Frank's passion for recaulking, Blake attempted suicide using a garlic press. Kayla informed Kyle that the only way he could win Morgan's love was by convincing her that he was Casey Kasem's skin consultant. Jan told Jimmy Lee that he would only be allowed to use one name, like everyone else in town.

AS THE WORLD RETURNS

A newcomer named Jimmy Lee said he would stay in town if they allowed him to use both of his names. In an unsuccessful attempt to appear older and gain entrance into the town's hot new nightclub, Timmy had varicose veins tattooed on his legs. In a flashback sequence, Kirk sold towels to Patrick Henry.

GENERALLY HOSPITABLE

Hilda was alarmed when Doctor Knuckles arrived for her appendectomy in a Lamboni machine. Nurse Rene assured Wilton that the fluid dripping from his elbow was peach juice, and then offered him a glass. Everyone in town was killed. (Last show of series.)
